IN PLACE FOR PESSIMISM.

Some of the Democratic organs have betrayed a very pessimistic attitude as to the business future of the country and the early return of overlocking prosperity. They tell their readers that the many announcements of industrial resumptions have signally failed of fulfillment, and they intone that they are not likely to come to pass very soon. They would have the public think that we have fallen upon long-enduring evil times; and they will in due time tell the public that these are due to Republican policies, and that the country needs a change. In the matter of industrial resumption, it is must be admitted that there has been more of hope than of smoke. There are no signs of employment; nevertheless, that hope has not been without some fruition, nor that enthusiasm wholly without substantial foundation. There have already been some important resumptions. Furnaces and mills have actually started and substantial coke contracts for 1908 have been closed. Steel rail orders must soon be placed and decided improvement in the coke trade at an early date is morally certain.

The country has not gone to the dogs. Panic conditions have subsided. The boom has passed, but we have hard times, and we are not likely to have. Pessimism has no place in the bright lexicon of American progress. Faith in the future and in ourselves will go a long way toward curing all our business ills.

EFFECTIVE STATE MINE REGULATION.

The Pittsburgh Dispatch opines that no mining law "will be effective against unwilling operators until every fire boss is made an attaché of the State Department of Mines, or until the State has a competent representative, in some other capacity, at every working mine."

The suggestion is worthy of consideration by the Legislature. The State now has a representative in the person of the mine inspector, but he has a large number of operations under his supervision and cannot possibly see them all at very frequent intervals. In the meantime violations of the law and dangerous mining practices are as ubiquitous as frequent occurrence, and these might be largely averted by the presence of the mines in all times of a State representative with power to regulate the operations in the interest of safety.

Perhaps no mine may be made absolutely safe, but many of them may be made safe.

The Uniontown Herald is one year old and exceedingly chirpy for a banner. It is a good paper, I think. It proposes to "maintain its place at the head of the county's newspapers," publicize its circulation and do diverse and mighty and diversified accounts. We wish it well. All success to it.

Store Policy

This being the oldest of the large Connellsville dry goods stores, we have seen many changes. Stores have come and gone but this old store has stood since 1881 growing steadily year by year, now as a result of the discovery of any new policy or consideration of expedience, but by keeping a good stock just following the broad principles of integrity and fair and square dealing. The only policy the founders knew is that it has quite naturally grown to be the counts of a foremost state. The store which interests us most is of standard quality. The store to which hundreds come for information. Here you will find the new things from all over the world. We even weigh your babies as well as dress them. It isn't the money we take in at the infant's goods counter that pleases us the most. It's the starting of a new crop of customers. Where the mother comes to get garments for the little ones here the little ones are most likely to come to get clothing for themselves when they grow up. So we cultivate future trade all the time by keeping the price marks on infant's goods mighty close to the cost marks. We beg to call your attention to a few specials this week.

HAGAN NAMED DEPUTY

Former Coroner Will Be Continued as Assistant by Dr. Bell.

SOME SUGGESTIONS HE MAKES.

Thinko County Detective Should Have an Assistant and Has Ideas That Would Prevent Mine Accidents, Blames Electricity.

Dr. A. S. Hagan, who concluded his term as Coroner of Fayette county on Monday yesterday gave out a statement covering some of his observations as Coroner. Dr. Hagan has been appointed a deputy by Coroner H. J. Bell. Dr. Hagan's statement is as follows:

"Sunday, January 5, marked the close of my second term, or six years as Coroner of Fayette county. It closed also a month of a long list of fatalities, for in it we have had the explanation of the Naomi mine near Belle Vernon, making the closing month one of the most disastrous months of my incumbency. In the month of December, 1907, we had the Duquesne wreck in which 65 were killed while at Naomi; 14 lost their lives in my first week as Coroner (the year of 1902). I had reported to me nine cases of violent deaths, among them mine accidents, railroad accidents and homicide. My last week there has not been a violent death reported to this office.

The first year shows a mortality of 162, which along some lines shows a decrease in the commendable part of it in the number of homicides that have occurred. There can scarcely be any doubt but that the vigilance of the officers of the county aided by the presence of a squad of our State Constables, has played an important part in the elimination of crime of this kind. One way to further put down this form of crime would be some regulation of the present prevalent indiscriminate or wholesale distribution of whisky and beer among our foreign residents.

"I know of one coke plant in the vicinity of Uniontown where there was distributed in one week or narrow it down to a few days, approximately 500 gallons of whisky and 2,000 gallon of beer. No fatalities were reported, but in the main was certainly due more to good luck than from any other source. This was consumed by about 600 men. This business is handled by the agents on a coke system which is a violation of the court's ruling along this line. At one house, where a christening or weddin' was being celebrated, there were 100 kegs of the amber fluid dispensed, in two or three days. Some change in this way of handling interlocutors, would certainly go a long way toward lessening this sort of crime."

"There has been a great deal of discussion recently brought about more particularly by the mine explosions at Naomi, in which I was killed, and Monongah with a death rate of 360 and 114 with 2,000 on the question of mines and mining. While unable to discuss this quite as intelligently, as some expert yet from what I have learned from visits to a number of mines and associations of practical men, I have been enabled to gather some points which I believe will go a long way toward reducing the number of mine accidents and mine explosions. The mining of coal for cooking and for fuel is at all times of interest to the people of this busy corner of the State as it is the one in which we are known throughout the world over. How to prevent accidents and yet meet the heavy demands for this much needed product is one of serious importance.

At the Belle Vernon inquest into the Naomi explosion C. B. Ross State Mine Inspector was asked this hypothetical question. If locked safety lamps were used, the dust well splitted and removed, sufficient ventilation supplied a good drainage system installed and electric lighting done away with in the mines would not could there be an explosion? His answer was: No, and I believe this is about the whole thing in a nutshell. No open lights or mixed light gas or no gas for that matter as it has always been the mines without gas that have produced the explosions.

Therefore only the locked safety lamp. It is true there are objections to this on the part of the miners in particular, but if a good and almost sure preventive of accidents then it is by far the best for general use.

The dust in a mine especially where machines are used is fine powder sometimes six or eight inches deep. A water wagon is ordinarily used but a water works system in a mine from which hose could be attached would be a good method.

Ventilation, the most important feature of a mine should be adequate and of such force to reach all parts of the mine with good volume. The workings of some mines are very extensive, many of them reaching a mile or two miles or more. It is almost impossible to reach these distant points with enough volume of air so in our writer at Belle Vernon we recommended the opening of an air shaft when the workings reached 4,000 feet or more. This would insure an almost perfect source of ventilation and give a good volume of air in the farther most workings.

The drainage of a mine is usually well cared for very few mines not having adequate drainage facilities.

As to the use of electric lighting it is nothing more than a trolley pole running on a nickel wire and having on a flame similar to that seen in a street car system. Let that flame come in contact with a confined pocket of gas and an explosion is inevitable. The doing away with it and the use of the compressed air motor is an excellent remedy for this existing evil.

I might add that the shooting of coal should be prohibited in there is a long list of fatalities chargeable to the shooting of coal either in the solid or from undercutting, is not denied hence for further protection or safety the doing away with it and the use of the compressed air motor is an excellent remedy for this existing evil.

There is but a family in Connellsville where there is not one or more members who suffer from the effects of acid rain.

It may be that this is not all or the eating some food that does not agree to become a suppository.

PLEASED WITH TEXAS

G. W. Leichliter and Son
Home From Lone Star State.

BOUGHT CROSS-S RANCH TRACT

Which Consists of a Section of 640 Acres—Another Party of Fayette and Western Pennsylvania People to Visit There This Month.

Last Thursday George W. Leichliter and son, Charles, returned from a trip to Cross-S Ranch in Texas. They gave an enthusiastic report of the "Lone Star State," and the hospitality of the Southern people. The climate is ideal and their opinion of the land is shown by the fact that Mr. Leichliter bought an entire section 640 acres, before leaving the Cross-S ranch.

Mr. Leichliter says of his trip: "Continuing the journey toward the setting sun the time was spent watching the gradual disappearance of the line of oaks and mesquite. The Kansas prairies were having a huge lime bloom, but rabbits seemed well only game. As the new State of Oklahoma was reached signs of spring seemed in the air, and Friday morning we awoke in the State of Texas with green fields on every side."

"In Dallas a day was spent as the guests of Mrs. Josephine Waye, and family, former Connellsville people. Arthur Waye is Assistant Circulation Manager of an evening paper, and is quite able to show the most attractive places in this city up to date of the South. Dallas will be remembered as the city that won the National Convention of the Dixie for 1908."

On the way to Post San Houston beautiful homes were passed where the drivers were covered with laurels of blossoming roses. This area is well known as one of the largest and finest in the United States. With $100,000 a year to improve roads and thousands of acres of an improved land the future of this post can be imagined. In fact Post San Houston is a full growing city without any addition from San Antonio.

Sunday morning the trip was made from Lufkin to Crystal City in automobiles. The stillness and beauty of the morning was only broken by the cry of an occasional coyote or the started horse or deer at the honk honk of the auto sounded. Several groups of homeseekers were passed there being a steady stream of these families to take possession of their new homes on the Cross-S. The majority are pitching tents and clearing their land and plowing crops while their new houses are being erected.

An entire week was spent on the ranch hunting and at the same time learning about climate, soil, crops, etc. Four crops a year and eating all kinds of vegetables from your neighbor's garden Christmas week is enough to convince the most skeptical that Texas "can't be beat." In order that the gentlemen might prove their prowess as hunters they brought antlers and hides of the deer home with them.

A party made up of Connellsville, Scottdale, McKeever, Pittsburgh, Monaca, Butler, and Indiana people will make the same trip, leaving Pittsburgh on June 1st.

BIG REHEARSAL.

Elks' Minstrel is Rapidly Being Rounded Into Shape Under Director Stout.

An enthusiastic rehearsal of the coming Elks' minstrel performance was held in Merchants Hall last night. Director Charles Stout put the boys through their paces in due style. The directions are clear and distinct at this time, will be better than ever before. The music is excellent, the vaudeville is bound to make a decided hit. Of course such stars as Doc Butler, Bill Marqua, Elmer Stillwagon, Dave Givard and Ralph Morton will be in the black face row.

Stage Manager F. T. Powe is of the Selsion Theater in a nice job today. The girls enlisted Frank's services and he is wading through snow drifts, putting up 100 banners advertising next week's uninvited attraction.

WANT A PARING

Of Councilmen and School Directors at Washington, Pa.

WASHINGTON, Pa., Jan. 8.—(Special)—Partial success was achieved today by citizens who favor the reduction of the Council and School Board membership. Recently a petition was presented to court, asking to a decrease from three to two representatives from each ward in both bodies.

Judge J. P. Taylor yesterday granted a rule to admit the thorough affidavits to show cause January 7 why such reduction should not be made.

Wedding Invitations Out.

Invitations have been issued for the marriage of Miss Pearl Linda Green of Brookville and Harold Claude Davis of this place. The ceremony will take place Wednesday January 15 at the home of the bride elect on Locust Street.

WOMAN DEFIES ARREST.

Shouts Foreigner Trying to Enter House—Threatens Officers.

WASHINGTON, Pa., Jan. 8.—(Special)—From 8 o'clock Monday night until 8 o'clock yesterday morning at the White Rock inns, near Burgettstown, this county officers were held at bay by Miss May Henler who, after the murder of Alex Soukka, barricaded herself in her home and vowed to shoot any officer who crossed her threshold.

Soukka's heart was shattered by the contents of a shotgun fired at close range. The woman's husband it is said stood behind his wife and urged her to shoot Soukka who was trying to force his way into the Henler home. Officers from Burgettstown were summoned but none dared attempt to force his way into the house. The woman announced to the officers that they might come in the morning and not before. At 8 o'clock this morning Officer Richard Conley of McDonald was in and had no trouble in arresting the woman.

LIABILITY BILL

That Will Stand the Constitutional Test Drawn by Senator C. Knox.

Special to The Courier

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Senator C. Knox of Pennsylvania who has taken much interest in the litigation going on out of the employers' liability act which was declared to be unconstitutional in the Supreme Court of the United States, has introduced a bill which is intended to remedy the defects in the present law. The bill is to be drawn so as to make applicable only to corporations engaged in such operations as Congress has the undoubted right to control and to employees of such corporations engaged exclusively in interstate commerce. The existing law is so broad as to cover all transportation between States, but Mr. Knox's bill so modifies it as to limit its application to common carriers which are operated by steam or similar motive power.

THE BROADWAY GIRL.

Big Musical and Beauty Show That Comes to the New Selsion This Evening.

A big musical show comes to the New Selsion this evening. "The Girl From Broadway" accompanied by a chorus that is won much favorable comment. The play is a new one in Western Pennsylvania. It is highly spoken of in the East and drew a big house in Greenburg last evening.

The "Broadway Girl" has a score of popular song hits, tuneful music throughout pretty costumes, and all the requisites. It is claimed that with the musical show that have made good this season.

Tonight night Tom Waterman, the Mayor of Laughland comes to the New Selsion.

INSPECTORS AT DARR.

Isaac G. Roby Meets Others There to Formulate Their Report.

Mine Inspector Isaac G. Roby left Tuesday morning for Darr, where where the Inspectors Thomas Adams, Alex M. Canech, C. B. Ross and Joseph Willis are to find inspection of the mines will be made and an effort made to determine if possible the initial point of the trouble.

The Inspectors will then make the report and other recommendations. This report is expected to be given this week. The Darr inspect is expected to begin tomorrow afternoon at Shifletton.

LOTS OF FUNDS.

Wealthy Pittsburgers Will Aid in Defense of Thaw.

NOW YORK, Jan. 8.—(Special)—There is no danger of Harry K. Thaw's defense suffering from lack of funds due to the depleted New York purse. Wealthy Pittsburgers headed by C. M. Schwab will give my sum needed to help Miss Thaw save her son from the electric chair.

It is said nearly the entire Thaw trust income amounting to $6000 annually, is being used in Harry's defense.

PLOT TO ASSASSINATE.

Bulgarian Prince Ferdinand Discover ed at Vienna.

Vienna, Jan. 8.—(Special)—A plot has been discovered to assassinate the Bulgarian Prince Ferdinand just before his coming marriage to Eleanor of Reuss. No details are given except the police are making wholesale arrests.

The Prince has been threatened many times.

You Can't Pay More Than $15.00 for Any Suit in This Store.

This is the Style that is Correct

WHEN we say fifteen dollars for all $20.00 and $22.50 and $25.00 Suits and Overcoats, and $10.00 for those regularly priced $15.00 to $17.50, we mean clothes correct in every detail and style, cut, fabric and tailoring. That's why this clothing sale looms head and shoulders above all others. The lowered prices have the added prestige of absolutely correct style. Mere advertised prices have no significance beyond the reputation of the establishment that prints them, and a $25.00 suit is no bargain at $15.00 unless the fabric and the cut of the garment is correct. It's style, correct style, that is causing the wonderful results of this clothing sale, just as much as the generous underpricing.

WHAT YOU MUST DEMAND
WHEN YOU BUY A SUIT.

Insist that the coat measures at least 31 inches in length.

Insist that the collar be close-fitting.

Insist that the shoulders be hand moulded to insure a lasting shape to the garment.

We publish a picture of one of our suits, and it is the exact pictorial reproduction of what you'll find when you come here. It is correct style that makes our sale prices lower than some competitive values would be at lower printed prices.

All $20, $22.50 and $25.00 Suits and Overcoats in the store at $15.00.

These Suits and Overcoats, all in the latest styles and newest fabric. They include every remaining suit that regularly retailed at the above prices, in black, blue and all fancy mixed fabrics. The overcoats are shown in authentic styles, made of correct overcoat cloths.

This beyond question, is the greatest January sale of Men's Garments ever held in this county.

All $15, $16.50 and $17.50 Suits and Overcoats in the store at $10.00.

This group includes every remaining Suit and Overcoat in the store that was formerly priced below $18, of black, blue and fancy Suitings, in single or double breasted models.

Overcoats in black and fancy patterns, with close fitting collars and broad military shoulders. Perfect draping garments that will give long and satisfactory service, and retain their distinctive style features until you are satisfied that you've had the biggest $10 worth you ever bought.
